

Special Care & Career Services supports families, children and adults with developmental disabilities by providing key services in Collin, Dallas and Denton counties with two age-determined programs: Early Childhood Intervention and Supported Employment Services.

- Early Childhood Intervention. This extensive program helps babies and toddlers, birth to age three, who have developmental delays and/or disabilities, reach their maximum potential to be successful in school. After an in-depth screening and evaluation process, experts provide speech, physical and occupational therapies and instruction to children and their primary caregivers either in children's homes or daycare facilities.
- Supported Employment Services. This program matches adults with intellectual disabilities, such as Down syndrome, autism spectrum disorder, and traumatic brain injury, to good jobs that meet the needs of employers. Our thorough assessment and job matching, on-the-job training and unique continued support, are the reasons our Supported Employment clients experience high job retention rates. Fifty-nine percent of our clients have been in the same jobs for five years or more.
